

Ingenium Community

The Public Sector can be a dizzying place to do business, with a huge array of organisations with varying and complex organisational structures. It's not always clear who the best organisation or person is to contact to get your message across.

Luckily, we can help. Our Ingenium community is the largest and most comprehensive Public Sector data community in the UK. What's more, Ingenium is highly detailed and segmented, allowing us to offer you a clear breakdown by sector of how many organisations we have access to, and how many contacts at those organisations.

We can also break down our data by geography, employee size and number of other categories. If you'd like to find out more, just get in touch. We can offer a clear and comprehensive cross-section of the entire UK Public Sector, making sure we help you achieve effective, actionable outcomes from your marketing activity.
